

The Scottish International Fire Training Centre at Lothian and Borders Fire and Rescue Service has established a worldwide reputation for excellence in the delivery of Fire Training.

Our instructors, who are operational firefighters, can help prepare your business and staff to reduce the risk of fire on your premises but also to know how to respond effectively if the worst happens.

The Training Centre has been running for more than 40 years and has trained companies from across the globe in a range of courses from Fire Marshall to Marine Firefighting. Our experience as frontline firefighters within Lothian and Borders Fire and Rescue Service ensures an invaluable level of knowledge.

Let us guide your staff safely through the wide range of general fire safety courses or select from one of our more specialised industry based training packages.

Who better to ensure that you and your business have the appropriate level of training and skills to manage fire safety issues than those whose job it is to fight fires and rescue those in danger 365 days a year?

*Kevin McCusker, Scottish International Fire Training Centre Manager
Lothian and Borders Fire and Rescue Service*

Our Courses include:	Specialised Advanced Courses:
Fire Marshall Training	Chemical Industry
Fire Safety Awareness	Industrial Fire Team
Fire Extinguisher Training	Marine Firefighting (STCW)

Bespoke training courses can also be arranged to suit your company requirements and training can be delivered at our premises in Edinburgh or on site at your company.

Around 75%
of businesses
never recover
from a fire
The Association of British Insurers

Lothian and Borders
Fire and Rescue Service

ISO 9001:2008
FS 45347

www.lbfire.org.uk Tel: + 44 (0)131 556 4852
siftc@lbfire.org.uk Fax: + 44 (0)131 558 9256
93 McDonald Road Edinburgh EH7 4NS