

Excellence in Fire Training

The Scottish International Fire Training Centre at Lothian and Borders Fire and Rescue Service has established a worldwide reputation for excellence in the delivery of Fire Training.

Our instructors, who are serving firefighters, can help prepare your business and staff to reduce the risk of fire on your premises but also to know how to respond effectively if the worst happens.

Who better to ensure that you and your business have the appropriate level of training and skills to manage fire safety issues than those whose job it is to fight fires and rescue those in danger 365 days a year?

Fire Safety Course

Our fire safety course is aimed at those who work in business and commerce organisations, local industry and local authorities. This half-day course is designed to lay the foundations for fire safety awareness and future fire safety training, and will be of particular interest to those who may have a role within their organisation's fire management structure.

Fire Marshal Course

A one day course for employees who are, or may be nominated, as fire wardens or marshals in their organisation, or have a role in their company's fire management structure. At the end of the course they will understand their role in the event of a fire evacuation and have a broad understanding of fire safety issues within the workplace.
